Standard Desks from Forest to Finished Product

STANDARD of the WORLD

THE Standard Furniture Company occupies a unique and distinctive position in the ownership of the timber lands, railroads, saw mills and veneer mills which produce the lumber and veneers used in the construction of Standard Desks, and operates under its own management and direct supervision all of the departments of manufacturing from the tree to the finished product.

More than two million Standard desks distributed throughout the entire world are convincing proof of the excellence of our product.

The progressive development of thorough and skillful manufacturing covering a period of nearly half a century insures the enduring quality which characterizes Standard Desks as the Standard of the World.

Specifications

MADE in finest figured Quartered White Oak, Mahogany and Walnut, perfectly matched for figure. Writing beds, 1 3/4 inches thick, with moulded edges, and panels 7/8 inch thick, are of five-ply construction. Legs, 2 1/4 inches square, have sunken panels and are fitted with heavy cast bronze sockets. Drawers with moulded fronts are made entirely of Quartered Oak, Mahogany and Walnut, equipped with vertical file in double drawer in right pedestal, utility tray in center drawer and movable partitions adjustable for 3 x 5 and 4 x 6 cards in other drawers. Three-ply dust partitions are between drawers and a metal mice-proof bottom protects each pedestal. The typewriter desks have all single drawers, one of them equipped with cabinet for stationery. Trim-mings are of cast bronze of special design.

NO. 90 Series and No. 100 Series are standard equipment for many of the largest corporations in America. The moulded drawer fronts and panelled ends and backs relieve the extreme plainness of design. The greater depth, the heavier legs and tops and the bronze pulls of the No. 90 group give the desired distinction for heads of departments, without destroying the harmony of design with the No. 100 group.

THE design of this group is identical with the No. 100 Series which it supplements. The smaller sizes and somewhat lighter construction make it desirable where space is limited or many desks are required in one room. All Standard details of construction and finish are faithfully maintained so there is no sacrifice of quality or durability with the saving in cost.
